

New Disability and Auslan Trainers

A project initiative as part of the NTSSS Employment Pathway Program

Project Profile:

Building a Workforce of People with Lived Experience

For this project initiative, Deaf Services Queensland will deliver a Certificate IV in Training and Assessment to up to 32 Deaf participants in partnership with MRWED Training and Assessment.

Industry Demand

The number of interpreting jobs per year has almost doubled from approximately 5,000 in 2016-17 to 10 000 to 2018-19. (Source: Auslan Connect).

Project Aim

To increasing the workforce of Auslan trainers available to deliver the Auslan qualifications across Queensland.

Training is aimed to address barriers to learning, and students will be supported to complete the course through tutoring from Auslan Trainers, provision of accessible course content and flexibility to study.
